Centennial Caravan Visits Here May 12

The Centennial Confederation Caravan will visit Coleman on Friday, May 12th, and plans are being made by the townspeople for other events to be held during the week-end.

At a meeting held in the Coleman Central School Sunday, January 22, a committee headed by Chairman Alex Sekella, and Secretary Helen Kropinak, was formed to organize plans for the day. Mayor John Holyk was present and announced that a civic holiday would be declared for the event, and representatives from 14 local organizations pledged their help for the occasion as well as other Centennial Year events.

Plans discussed so far could include a band reception for the eight-trailer caravan which will be escorted to the Horace Allen school playgrounds along a flag-lined route.

Since each of the tours in the caravan will last approximately 45 minutes, the committee is planning at least two events to be held in conjunction with the Centennial display so that those waiting to be taken on the tour will be entertained.

Suggested for the afternoon was a play by the local high school and old-time costume and dress pageant. Suggestion was also made that during the morning hours, either on Friday or Saturday, the town's Legion Memorial Centennial Park be officially opened with hot dogs and pop being provided for the young people.

A supper in the Elks hall is also being given some consideration by a ladies' group. A two-day carnival, to be sponsored by the Lions and Elks is also being considered as one of the main attractions for the week-end.

To mark Canada's 100th birthday the town is suggesting purchasing and lighting 100 colored flares on the south side of the railway tracks where all will be able to view the colorful display at night.

The clergy will also be invited to the next meeting to see if a special Sunday service could be arranged for.

Many suggestions were offered for the week-end but were all topped by the one proposed by Mitzi Moore. Mrs. Moore, noting that this was an old-time week-end, merchants in town should revert to "Old Fashioned prices in their stores for the week-end." This, she assured, would draw a terrific crowd.

Other ideas suggested for Centennial events during the year were a community picnic, a baseball tournament, a beard growing contest, old time dances, arts and crafts display, concerts, smorgasbords, carnivals and many other events.

Another meeting is to be held on February 12th and time and place will be announced when plans are completed.

The many voiced Max Ferguson is heard each week-day morning on the CBC radio network as he takes a satirical look at the day's headlines. Here he's seen at work with announcer Alan McFee (at left).

St. Paul's United Church Holds Annual Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's United Church was held in the church on Sunday evening, January 29th, with 40 in attendance.

The meeting opened with the singing of Hymn No. 2, followed by Scripture reading from John 21:15-17, by Minister Peter Walker. In Memoriam of those passed away, the congregation read in unison Hymn No. 178.

The minister welcomed all to the meeting.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were read by Secretary John Dean and business arising from minutes was discussed.

Group reports were given. Mr. Walker gave a full report on the year's statistics and of activities in the church in the past year.

Hi-C showed a good year with 10 members coming into church membership. Sunday School reported that attendance is down and would the parents please encourage their children to attend Sunday School by setting a good example and attend church. Sunday School is the same time as church services. Remember, we set the example for our children to be good, rather than showing them how—in other words, we should practice what we preach.

The teachers for Sunday School are Mrs. L. Coover, Mrs. M. Rowbotham, Mrs. F. MacLeod and Mrs. J. Gihny. Superintendent is Mrs. V. Diakin.

The Senior Choir could use more members. We practice Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m., if you would like to join us. The United Church Women reported a very good year and are happy about the new members. There are 10 members on each board of Session and Stewards.

New members elected are Mrs. John Dean, Mr. Lorne Schlender and Mr. Ron Niemeyer to Session and Mr. Dave Barras, Mr. Ed Ferillo and Mr. Joe Taron to Stewards.

Hi-C counsellors are Mr. L. McEwen and Mr. Walker. Mrs. Peter Walker was re-elected as Presbytery Conference delegate for the congregation.

Mr. Walker thanked all the boards, teachers, choir and organist for their appreciated support in the past year.

The congregation then thanked Mr. and Mrs. Walker for a fruitful year of ministry.

The meeting closed with singing Hymn No. 434 and the Benediction.

Lunch was served by the ladies. The men of the church are having another delicious pancake supper on Shrove Tuesday, February 7th, starting at 5 p.m. Everybody welcome.

The U.C.W. ladies are having a Valentine Tea and Bake Sale in the clubroom Saturday, February 11 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. See you there.

Charles Drain is Socreds Nominee

Charles Drain, accountant for Drain & Co. Contractors of Blairmore, was nominated as Social Credit candidate at one of the largest nominating conventions ever held in Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Pass constituency, in Cowley on February 3rd. Over 350 persons crammed into the small hall and an estimated 150 others were turned away.

Unsuccessful candidates, who let their names stand for nomination were William White, a Bellevue rancher and insurance agent; Frank Abousafy, a Coleman merchant; and Melvin Cox, a Blairmore caterpillar operator.

Fred S. Radford of Blairmore, was chairman of the meeting and called on provincial organizer, Orvis Kennedy to conduct the nomination. Candidates were voted on in an elimination vote by poll. The first votes cast eliminated Melvin Cox, then Frank Abousafy, with the final vote defeating William White and making Charles Drain the successful candidate.

Mr. Drain expressed his thanks for the support given him and commented that the large number of persons at the convention indicated the resurgence of interest in the Social Credit movement.

He promised that if elected to parliament in the next election, the name of Pincher Creek-Crows Nest Pass will ring loud and clear in the corridors of Edmonton.

He concluded by stating that he would devote all his time to the duties of M.L.A. if elected to this post.

Congratulating Mr. Drain on being nominated Orvis Kennedy paid tribute to all of the candidates and persons at the convention and urged everyone to pledge their full support to Mr. Drain in order to get the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Pass Social Credit candidate back to Edmonton.

He concluded by stating "the NDP did not win the last election—we lost it."

Ed Benoit, M.L.A. of Okotoks-High

River constituency, was present, and spoke on a number of resolutions that will be brought up in parliament at the next session.

For the event free hot dogs, coffee and pop were provided by the lodges.

Policing Discussed by Town Council

Sgt. Garnett Walker, in charge of Blairmore detachment of the RCMP, was present at Coleman council meeting January 24th to discuss with the councillors the policing of the town.

It was learned that the only duties the RCMP would not be responsible for was picking up dogs or animals at large in town and looking after the town's car parking by-law.

Persons requiring the services of the RCMP were reminded that the phone number is 563-3111.

The matter of increasing insurance on some buildings owned by the town and lowering other insurance coverages was discussed. The town is giving consideration to inviting insurance lenders to cover all town insurance on a blanket policy.

Mayor John Holyk reported that he had attended a Centennial gathering held in the Coleman school Sunday, January 22nd which was attended by representatives of all town organizations.

He gave a resume' of what had taken place at the meeting. Council approved purchase of six large Centennial flags for the town, through the Coleman Lions Club.

A report was given on the test hole drilling completed to find out the strata of the ground so that costs could be estimated to lay a water and sewerage line to a number of lots in the new subdivision. A motion was made that the work on laying the service lines get underway immediately.

Rudy Szymanek, who is in charge of the sewerage system, reported that there was 10 inches of ice formed on the clarifier unit at the town's sewage disposal grounds. Mr. Szymanek suggested that the clarifier be covered with plywood to retain some heat. Material cost would be approximately $300. Council approved purchase of the material.

Town foreman Hector Pivovar was advised to prepare a list of material and gravel he will be needing for roadwork and other projects this coming summer. The list is to be submitted for budgeting. Enquiries will also be made

Fire Razes Home Of Norman Ross

Fire destroyed a five room frame home and contents belonging to the Norman Ross family here Monday, January 30.

Cause of the fire, which started in the rear of the house, has not been determined. Loss has been estimated at $4500. It is not known if insurance was carried on the dwelling.

The family, home at the time of the blaze, escaped injury.

Stan Smythe of the Welfare Bureau, has asked that anyone wishing to make a cash donation to this needy family, should get in touch with Minister Peter Walker of St. Paul's United Church, or Rev. Walter Krewski of the Holy Ghost Catholic Church. Acknowledgement of donations will be made.

The first Oshawa-built car, a McLaughlin-Buick, was produced in 1908. Over 5,000,000 cars and trucks have been built there since by General Motors.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Company Coming!

A telegram phoned to us this morning announced a visitor from the East who will stay with us at Greenhorn Farm for a day or two. What a burst of energy that telegram let loose! Suddenly the place sprung to life, to frenzied activity.

All day long, furniture has been dusted, re-arranged. Goodies have been baking in the oven. Nora is now quite sure the kitchen curtains that looked just fine yesterday, are not quite right and must be changed. Kathy and the twins have been at the barn, mucking out and tidying up. They've curried and groomed their horses to a beautiful shimmering shine. Halters, bridles and saddles have been treated with neatsfoot oil. The friend who is coming to stay with us a camera buff, so the kids want everything to look just right.

Finally, I, too, got caught up in this whirlpool of excitement and went to work with a will. I've brushed Woolly-Bully, our Jersey bull mascot, until he'd be presentable enough to show at the Fair. I caught up with some book work in my den, so I'll have lots of time to devote to our visitor - take him, for example, on a ten-dollar tour of Greenhorn Farm, pointing out its beautiful aspects and promising future beauty treatments to those portions which still look raw.

This evening at supper we all felt wonderful. The day was one of unheard-of accomplishment. "My gosh," Kathy said, "we'd have the tidiest, best-looking place in the country if we had company coming every week."

She's so right! Company coming gets work done fast. It makes us put our best foot forward, spruce up and look our best. Perhaps there is no earthly reason why we couldn't be as thorough and efficient every day; but we're not, because we're humans, and human beings need something to get going, some incentive to prime the pump. For some people it is pride, for some it's profit. For us, the best motivation of all is that cry of "Company's Coming!"

Expo 67 Study Shows No Accommodation Lack

Upwards of five million beds will be available in Montreal for visitors to the city during the six-month run of Expo 67, according to Logexpo, the exhibition's housing bureau. Logexpo has conducted a survey of accommodation that will be available during the World Exhibition. Even at peak periods, forecasts show 20 per cent more accommodation than will be required.

Facilities, ranging from hotel and motel rooms, to apartments, dormitories, private homes, and trailer and campers will provide accommodation for 200,000 persons per day.

Of the expected 165,000 daily visitors to Expo 67 it is estimated 25 per cent will be residents of Montreal and that 30 per cent will stay overnight with friends and relatives in the city. Only 45 per cent or 74,250 visitors will therefore need daily lodgings. Even on peak days when up to 350,000 visitors are anticipated, there will be ample accommodation for the 157,500 who are expected to draw upon the pool facilities.

In addition, all rates for accommodation will be government controlled as a result of a bill that recently received first reading in the Quebec Legislature.

A Government agency, Provincial Lodging Service for Expo 67 has been in operation for the past four months surveying accommodation available in Montreal to set rates for such lodgings.

Certificates fixing the maximum rent for each lodging will be issued and must be conspicuously posted at all times. Landlords failing to comply will be subject to a fine of $200, or one month imprisonment for first offenders, or $3,000 or two months imprisonment for repeat offenders.

With the help of computers, Logexpo is geared to act as co-ordinator between prospective Exhibition visitors and operators of accommodation facilities that have already been inspected, approved and classified.

Logexpo has already reserved more than one million bed nights for Exhibition visitors between April 28 and October 27, ranging from $10 to $40 per day for hotel and apartment accommodation to $2 to $5 for dormitories and campsites.

Logexpo provides a free service to handle requests for reservations from visitors unable to arrange such reservations on their own or through their travel agents. Visitors wishing to use the bureau's services should write to:

LOGEXPO,
Expo '67,
Administration and News
Pavilion,
MacKay Pier,
Montreal, Canada.

Requests should give full details of the dates, preferred price ranges and type of accommodations required, and should indicate the number of children in the party.

Officials of Logexpo and the Provincial Lodging Service for Expo 67 are confident that there will be more than enough accommodation at reasonable rates for all visitors to the World Exhibition.

If you're in your forties or fifties, this message is addressed to you. It isn't too soon to begin planning and preparing for retirement - for a happy, contented old age. You'll find many helpful suggestions in a free pamphlet, distributed by your Mental Health Association, entitled "Leisure in Later Years". Write for it today to CMHA, 619 Revillon Building, Edmonton.

Measles Is Not For Children

This is the season for Measles epidemics. At the present time minor outbreaks of Measles are being reported from most parts of Alberta and especially from the central and northern regions.

So far there have been only sporadic cases in southern Alberta. In our Health Unit area we are fortunate that many children have already been immunized against the disease either by their own family physician or by the staff of this department, and we believe this is partly responsible for the very few cases that have occurred.

Measles itself is not a very serious illness but the disease renders its victims highly susceptible to other infectious and complications of a very serious nature. The most common ones are Pneumonia, Otitis-media and Encephalitis. The latter two may cause permanent impairment.

No drug is effective against Measles. Even the best antibiotics are only useful against bacteria causing complications.

Measles is one of the most infectious diseases of childhood. It spreads in epidemic waves through susceptible populations.

Control measures - like treatment, isolation and quarantine are of limited value. Only by prevention can the disease be controlled and immunization is the only way of doing this.

During the last few years this department has successfully used two different types of vaccine.

1.-Live attenuated vaccine. A single inoculation of this vaccine gives a prompt and lasting immunity.

2.-Killed vaccine followed by live vaccine. This requires three injections of killed and one injection of live vaccine 6 to 7 months later. This vaccine gives about the same immunity.

Reaction to both vaccines are slight. There are no local reactions. Mild febrile reaction with or without a rash can occur 7 to 14 days after the administration of the vaccine. Reaction to the killed vaccine are less than one per cent and to the live vaccine about seven per cent.

I would like to remind all parents to make sure that their children are fully protected against Measles. If they have not received the vaccine they should bring the children to the next Well Baby Clinic, as this is the time of the year when the incidence of Measles is highest.

Eradication of Measles - like many other infectious diseases - can be achieved if about 85 per cent of the children are immunized.

K. ADLER,

Medical Officer of Health.

Odd names of far-away places

Remember Lake Chagargagag-manchaugagagchaubuna gunamaug? Since the B. C. Automobile Association last rounded up a list of odd place names, suggestions for additions have been arriving by letter, telephone call and personal visit.

Someone called the BCAA's attention to the Welsh village which requires a 19-foot sign to carry its full name - Llanfairpwllgwyngygogerychwyndrobwllantysiliogoch. It wouldn't help much to print it in English, for the full translation is "St. Mary's Church in the hollow of the white hazel, near to the rapid whirlpool of Llantysilio of the red cave".

The villagers play it cool by calling it simply Llanfair. It is a railroad stop, and railway fans from all over the world write for platform tickets bearing the full name.

The visitor to St. Croix in the U. S. Virgin Islands can have a field day collecting place names such as Good Hope, Judith's Pancy, Grapevine Bay, Catherine's Rest, Fanny's Fancy, Eliza's Retreat, Betty's Jewel, Sweet Bottom, Prosperity Garden, and Wheel of Fortune.

Twodot, in central Montana, got its name from an early-day cattle rancher, H. J. "Two Dot" Wilson, whose brand was a double period.

Not to be outdone in the small numbers department, Florida has the community of Two Egg. One explanation, perhaps apocryphal, is that a farmer came regularly to the general store to swap two eggs for a plug of tobacco, and the name resulted.

BCAA suggests travellers with a yen for collecting odd place names be on the lookout for these:

Newfoundland - Indian Tickle, Heart's Content, Too Good Arm, Misery Point, Empty Basket, Farnish Gut, Mistaken Point, Dog Fish Point and Shoe Cove.

Arkansas - Possum Grape, Granny's Gap, Hideout Hollow, Gunbarrel Reach and Ben Hur. Florida - Bee Ridge, Spuds, Bean City and Little Bare Beach. Mississippi - Hot Coffee and Money.

Colorado - Hygiene and Fairplay.

Wyoming - Dull Center, Difficulty, Goose Egg, Ten Sleep and Hell's Half Acre.

Oklahoma - Bowlegs and Harrah.

And if you are still having trouble with location of Lake Chagargagag (ah, hell! it's at the start of this article, first paragraph) its at Webster, Massachusetts - near Woonsocket, Rhode Island.

In addition to production for the Canadian market, General Motors of Canada at Oshawa builds cars and trucks for export to 76 countries.

Salvation Army Helps Canada Observe Centennial

On New Years day, more than 500 Salvation Army congregations from coast to coast sang "Happy Birthday to Canada" in their Sunday services. As one would expect, their celebrations were of a spiritual nature as 100,000 Salvationists embarked on a year-long offensive which has been captioned "Mission to the People" Crusade.

The Army, having observed its own centennial just two years ago, has set several ambitious goals for 1967. In its concern to reach many unchurched people, a mammoth drive will be made to contact and enlist 50,000 new adherents, as well as to increase its soldier-member strength.

Its Christian education program has been streamlined to encourage greater involvement by lay members in the Army's evangelical mission and also to bring new spark to its family Sunday Schools.

In addition, new projects are being launched during Canada's Centennial to assist the Army in its overall spiritual and humanitarian role. Among them are three new Harbor Light Centres and a Farm Project for the rehabilitation of alcoholics. These will be established at strategic points across Canada. Another House of Concord, geared to assist first offenders from the courts, is also contemplated.

Not to be outdone, the women of The Salvation Army are formulating plans to raise $30,000 toward a new home for teen-aged Indian girls, now being built at Prince Rupert, B. C.

A team of evangelists, equipped with a specially constructed Centennial Mobile Unit, will tour all provinces to hold evangelistic meetings in connection with the "Mission to the People" Crusade.

Labatt's Centennial Projects

One Alberta company that has caught the Centennial "bug" in a big way, is Labatt's Alberta Brewery Limited.

"Our Company is behind the Centennial 100 per cent," says Marketing Manager E. R. Baxter, and he lists a number of the Centennial projects completed or planned by Labatt's to prove his point:

-Labatt's Edmonton plant has been bedecked with large Centennial flags.

-All Labatt's employees are flying Centennial flags from their car aerials.

-The Company's Marketing staff has been outfitted with Canadian tartan blazers with the Centennial crest on the pocket.

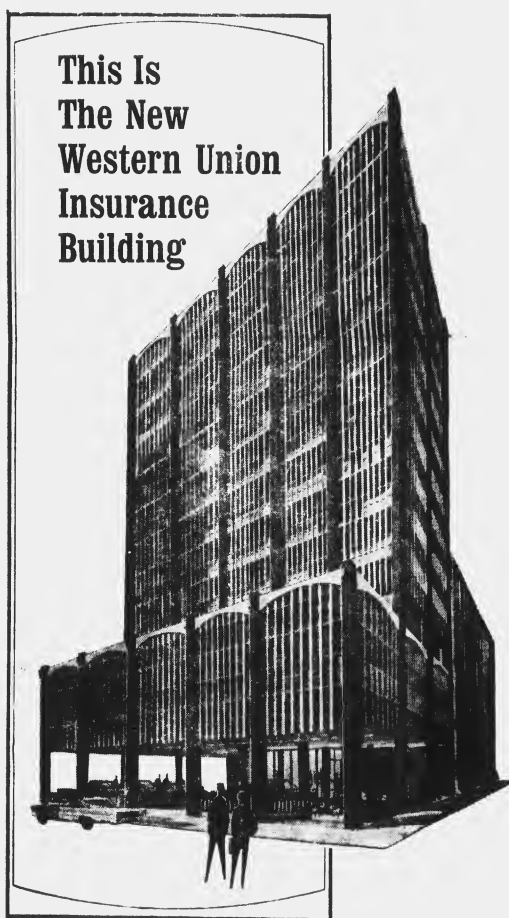

-The familiar Centennial symbol has also been added to the cartons and labels of the three Labatt's products, brewed in Alberta: Labatt's 'Pilsener', Labatt's '50' and 'Velvet Cream Stout'.

-The new 'Pilsener' labels also bear Centennial messages, which "recognize the many fine Centennial projects planned by various Alberta communities," says Baxter. A total of 36 different messages have been used on the new 'Pilsener' labels.

-The Centennial symbol has been added to all Labatt's stationery.

-Labatt's new public service unit also has the Centennial "look". Named the "S.S. Centennial", this 32-foot unit will appear at numerous fairs, rodeos and other community activities in Alberta this year.

"We hope to announce at least one other major Centennial project very shortly," says Baxter. And he adds, "we hope that other Alberta companies will make maximum use of the Centennial symbol during 1967."

Heart Fund Dollars Start To Pay Off

A good sized library could be filled by the 20,000 scientific papers, each containing previously unknown information about the cardiovascular system and its disorders, which have been made possible by the Heart Fund campaigns —Research behind these publications, underwritten by more than 10 million Heart Fund dollars, has speeded virtually every present-day advance in the fight against heart and blood vessel disease. Results now are coming back to the Canadian people.

Since the onset of heart research programs in 1956, with your Heart Foundations serving as Canada's main non-governmental source of research support funds, dramatic results have been achieved. Among persons aged below 65 there has been a decline in the death rate from heart and blood vessel diseases. And despite an increase in the death rate from heart attack among men aged 45 to 64, this age bracket has enjoyed an overall improvement in its mortality rate from all heart and circulatory diseases.

This is real progress. As famed cardiologist, Dr. Paul Dudley White says: "We are turning the corner." In his opinion, Heart Fund contributions have been among the wisest and most effective health investments ever made by the people of this country.

Much remains to be done. The heart and blood vessel diseases are still responsible for more deaths than all other diseases and causes combined. Vital research and educational programs of your Heart Foundation must have the support they deserve.

So give generously to the Heart Fund Campaign. Give — So More Will Live!

People with an eye for the finer things in life have long recognized the elegance and versatility of leather. This year suede and leathers seem to be particularly popular in men's and women's sportswear. With proper care a leather-care firm suggests that your leather garments will give you many years of smart service.

Do's and Don'ts For The Care of Suede and Leather:

- 1—Hang your garment on a correctly shaped hanger when it is not being worn.
- 2—Wipe dust off suede with a soft brush or sponge. Use a damp cloth on smooth leathers. Never use saddle soaps or polishes on fine leathers.
- 3—Do not store leather goods in air-starved closets or plastic bags. Leather will fade and the suede garments may mildew.
- 4—If you wish to press a garment do not use a steam iron. Use the lowest setting and press very quickly to avoid overheating. Use a heavy layer of brown paper between the garment and the warm iron.
- 5—Do not attempt spot cleaning with solvents or abrasives as these products often cause permanent damage to the article.
- 6—Do not launder leather either by hand or by machine. Have it cleaned by a professional cleaner—NOT a regular dry cleaner.
- 7—Do not rub spills—shake off the excess liquid, blot spot gently, dry at room temperature. Leather will harden and shrink if dried by an artificial heater. After the spot has dried it can often be cleaned off with a brush or a sponge.
- 8—Always send both pieces of a two-piece leather or leather and knit outfit to be cleaned at the same time. This will ensure even coloring in the match-ups.
- 9—Always make sure if the garment is real leather or an imitation. If it is synthetic be sure you supply your cleaner with the manufacturer's care instructions.

Garments with a small amount of leather trim can be handled well by a professional dry cleaner. Garments with a considerable amount of leather on them should be cleaned only by a professional leather cleaner who can guarantee his work.

Check to find out if the dry cleaner you patronize is properly equipped to handle sueded and leathers. The natural colored leathers are the easiest to care for as there is no danger of the dye "running" when these garments are cleaned.

Centennial Essay Competition

A special Centennial essay competition for school children of grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 is being planned by the Alberta Safety Council. The theme will be "Family Travel in Centennial Year".

R. D. Jorgenson, M.L.A., chairman of the Farm Safety Essay competition committee, reports the committee is anxious to expand the competition to city schools for the first time. The Farm Safety Essay competition has been open only to rural school divisions.

This will be the 16th year and about 50,000 children participate each year. Offering the competition to the same grade groups in urban schools may mean doubling the number of participants. City school superintendents will be asked in the near future if they want the competition.

A further meeting of the committee to consider judging problems and prizes will be held early in February.

The topic "Family Travel in Centennial Year" is expected to be popular and useful as an educational effort.

Family Service Bureau Report Successful Year

Elected to head the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Pass Family Service Bureau at the annual meeting February 1st, were Chairman Grant Hall, vice-chairman Morden McNeil of Hillcrest, secretary Lill Price of Bellevue and treasurer, Rev. Walter Krewski of Coleman.

Members at large on the Bureau are Ainsley Gibson of Blairmore, Dick Jensen of Coleman, and Gordon Reeves of Pincher Creek, while the town representatives on the Board of Directors are Gordon McIntyre of Bellevue, Mrs. Christina Pitt of Blairmore, Joe Gibbs of Coleman, Mayor Hector Lemire of Cowley, Morden McNeil of Hillcrest, Marcelle Desharnais of Frank, Dr. M. Hodgson of Pincher Creek, and Roy McKenzie of the Municipal District of Pincher Creek.

Staff members on the Bureau are Sister Leo Agnes and Rev. Harold Coward of Blairmore.

Chairman Grant Hall, in his report, indicated that the most pressing problem encountered by the group during the past year has been that of acquiring sufficient funds to operate.

The funds have come from the Catholic Charities of Calgary, town governments, fraternal and service clubs in the district and from the Bureau's two Thrift Shops.

Mr. Hall also reported that favorable progress was being made on establishing a Preventative Social Service program for this area.

Mr. Hall elaborated on the function of such a unit. He also commented on the formation and operation of the Bureau's two Thrift Shops. He outlined some of the Bureau's lecture program that were held last year and also the group's work in organizing a Christmas hamper program for needy families. Included in next year's projects will be a driving service for the aged and handicapped; lectures by the Home Economist on efficient housekeeping, and a premarital counselling program.

Sister Leo Agnes presented the executive directors' report that showed case work services were provided to 112 families in relation to marital, parent-child relationship problems, tensions, senior citizens, disabled, individual adjustments and budgeting.

A great amount of vocational guidance was also given. Short-term services were provided to 33 families. These services included clarification of problems, information about community resources and referral to professional persons or agencies.

Rev. W. Krewski presented a financial statement that indicated a successful year, which ended with a true bank balance of $163.45.

A series of slides on welfare work in other provinces was then shown by Sister Leo Agnes, after which a lunch was served.

The honored guest was escorted to the head table by Mrs. Edna Beaver and presented with a corsage of pink carnations. During this time Mrs. Steve Penney played appropriate music on the piano.

Whist and bingo was the entertainment of the evening with whist honors going to Mrs. A. Salus, first; Mrs. S. Penney, second, and consolation to Mrs. L. Vasek. Mrs. C. Marconi was the winner of the door prize.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses after which Mrs. Rafferty was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts. Mrs. N. Fahro then presented her with the major gift.

The honored guest expressed thanks to the friends assembled for the beautiful gifts bestowed upon her and her husband.

K. C.'s Honor Coleman Member

A long-time resident of Coleman, Mr. Joseph Kapalka, was honored recently by the St. Joseph the Worker Council, Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Kapalka has been a Knight continuously for more than forty-three years — first as a member of Father Lacombe Council, Pincher Creek, and then as a Charter Member of the Council in Crows Nest Pass. At a party attended by Knights and their ladies, Grand Knight Morden McNeil presented Bro. Kapalka with a suitably engraved wrist watch, while Mrs. Kapalka received a lovely corsage from Mrs. McNeil.

Congratulations are being extended to Bro. Eric Price on the occasion of his appointment to the Senate of Lethbridge University. Dr. Leskiw recently announced that Mr. Price was among the first five Southern Albertans to be so honored.

District Deputy John Binda of Coleman, reported that plans are now underway for an initiation in Lethbridge in co-operation with District 12. A tentative date is about the middle of March.

Three young men who had represented the Pass Cheen Club at the 48th Tuxis and Older Boys' Parliament in Edmonton, were guest speakers at the last meeting. The three, Fred Bradley of the Anglican Church, and Robert Price and Barry Dobek, Catholics, gave a most enlightening report of the activities of the Parliament.

Seven religious bodies were represented among the 90 members, and for the second time in the history of the body there was Catholic representation.

The Cheen Club, who sponsored Mr. Bradley, Mr. Dobek and Mr. Price, is an interdenominational organization of teen-age boys and girls from the Crows Nest Pass area.

Retiring Most Excellent Chief Ivy Jones was presented with her Past Chief's pin and a gift, and Sister Eileen Ironmonger was presented with a gift for her faithful service as secretary.

Sister Amy Penney also received a gift for her services as planist.

Urges Adults Avail Themselves Of Oral Vaccine

Dr. K. Adler, Medical Health Officer of Chinook Health Unit, is concerned with the very poor response from the adult population to the Oral Polio (Sabin) Vaccine. Adults who have had three injections of Salk Polio Vaccine are eligible to receive the Sabin Vaccine.

Although Salk Polio Vaccine gives about 75 to 80 per cent immunity against the dread disease Poliomyelitis, in complement with Sabin Vaccine almost 100 per cent immunity is achieved.

Dr. Adler felt that perhaps the reason for the poor response to the Oral Polio Vaccine program for adults was due to the fact that working hours of adults prevented their attendance at regularly scheduled clinics.

If this is the reason, the staff of the Health Unit are prepared to hold special clinics for the adults either in the evening or on a Saturday.

For further information call the Health Unit.
